SITE SPECIFIC DESIGN & CONTENT

DDOUBLE DATA - Design, Copy, Print, is your complete one-stop shop for all your Internet needs. Double Data can design, develop and deploy your web content, offering you an instant Internet presence and email domain identity. We also offer web site maintenance and content management services.

A web site is your ambassador to the world. It must communicate your message clearly while inviting visitors to seek a deeper understanding of your business's products and services.

First impressions count. You have less than ten seconds to impress a visitor before they hit the the back button and click to another site.

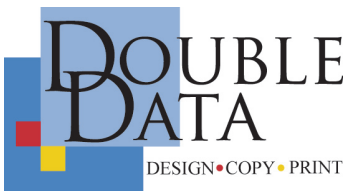

Aesthetic appeal and simple navigation, combined with quick downloading of information are the keys to a successful site. The next step is getting people to visit your site. Keyword search optimization is crucial. Insuring your site leverages the popular search engines changing criteria is a full time job.

Our web design team has been serving clients for over ten years. We have a passion for helping small and medium-sized companies expand the reach of their Internet presence.

We offer clients a wide variety of business models from which to choose. If your site lacks energy and you are seeking a partner to preserve your online presence, let Double Data help.

Double Data – working twice as hard for you!
